

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

An air ventilation system for a personal watercraft that includes a pair of pipes extending substantially side by side through the watercraft's hull from a first side to a second side where the pipes have an intake port located through the deck above the waterline of the watercraft and 5 an outlet port that extends into the bottom third of the hull below the waterline.

#2817705